

STARLIGHTS (Grades K-2) AUDITION SIDE

STUART: Ah, it's nice to have the place all to oneself in the morning.

(STUART begins to exercise as SNOWBELL, a cat, enters)

SNOWBELL: You don't have the place all to yourself, bub.

STUART (unenthusiastically): Oh, hello, Snowball.

SNOWBALL: You're up early, aren't you?

STUART: I thought I'd come down for a bit of exercise and then brush my teeth.

SNOWBELL: Your teeth aren't big enough to brush.

STUART: Yes they are.

SNOWBELL: Are not.

STUART: Are, too! (SNOWBELL hisses at Stuart then walks archly away.) Snowbell, I suggest that since we both must live under the same roof, we try to exercise a measure of civility toward each other.

SNOWBELL: You mean – get along together?

STUART: Precisely.
